

To-Day, Friday, THE LAST Remnant Day

between now and Christmas, as every available space will be necessary for the exhibit of wares that are incoming for the holiday business.

Goods to be closed out—short lengths, defective and shop-worn stuffs—thousands of wares that are equal to the best—are thrown out to-day to meet a closing time.

use singular means for selling stuffs at one half which would bring full price in every market. It's just one of the peculiarities that brings success to this business and satisfactory help to its constituents. It keeps all the rest of stock in prime freshness not to be found anywhere else.
